

PCR TEST

WHAT NEXT AFTER A CORONAVIRUS TEST?

In most cases, test results are available within 24–48 hours. Due to increased demand at the external laboratory, results can take up to 72 hours. One per cent of tests are invalid and must be repeated.

You will receive the results of your test from the laboratory electronically. If no e-mail address or telephone number has been provided, your results will be sent by A Mail.

If you experience symptoms, please stay at home in quarantine, until you have received a negative test result. Even if you have tested negative, you may leave this quarantine only after you have been symptom-free for 24 hours.

One exemption to this is a mandatory quarantine ordered by the cantonal medical service (e.g. contact tracing) for those who have had contact with a person who has tested positive. In this case, it is imperative that you adhere to the requirements of contact tracing.

If you have further questions, please consult the website of the Federal Office of Public Health: www.bag.admin.ch
(See the leaflet: Instructions on isolation/quarantine)
