INFORMATION ON ADVISORY SERVICES

The first few weeks after the birth of your child will be a wonderful but also intense time for you.

You will certainly have many questions and concerns during the first few month with your newborn, especially if you are first time parents.

Your midwife or nurse will support and advise you on questions and issues relating to the puerperium, the newborn, your baby's nutrition and your well-being.

We recommend that you contact a midwife or nurse during pregnancy if you would like outpatient support during postpartum care.

COSTS

Health insurance pays the costs for outpatient postpartum care up to the 56th day after the birth. Your care person will provide you with further information on how the costs will be covered.

CONTACT DETAILS

You will find the contact details of midwives and nurses who, in addition to their work at Salem-Spital, offer freelance outpatient postpartum care in this flyer.

Appointments are made directly with the freelance midwives and nurses and not through Salem-Spital.
